Abstract--The purpose of this session is to share the Lock Haven University of Pennsylvania (LHUP) Student Teaching Handbook, including policies, practices and procedures in student teaching. Also presented will be the competency assessment instrument that is used to assess the performance of all LHUP student teachers. Finally, the observation process, including forms generated via a laptop computer with embedded digital pictures of the student teacher executing a lesson, will be shared. The audience will be encouraged to share their "best practices" in student teach so that all participants will gain new methods and unique practices in teaching
